

Seller Success Spotlight: Signature Systems Group, LLC

Every four years, millions of people from across the country are drawn to the National Mall in Washington, D.C. for the Presidential Inauguration. To organize the crowd along the Mall and parade route, the National Park Service uses steel barriers to keep walkways clear and allow access for emergency vehicles. For the past two inaugurations, they have relied on Signature Systems Group, LLC to provide fencing for this momentous occasion. Their successful track record of providing fencing for events like the New York City Marathon, the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade and the Belmont Stakes makes them a market leader in the modular fencing industry. In 2013, the National Park Service used FedBid to procure both pedestrian barriers and chain link fencing from Signature Systems Group, LLC. Thanks in part to Signature Systems Group, LLC, crowds at the 2013 Presidential Inauguration were orderly and the event was successful.
